Course Objectives

Anthropology 201 Introduction to Biological Anthropology is designed to introduce students to the varied subjects and avenues of study that comprise the field of biological anthropology. In so doing, students will gain an appreciation of what biological anthropology is and how it contributes to our understanding of who humans are as a species, when we emerged onto the global landscape, and what our bones, bodies and historical artefacts can tell us about how we came to be here. As an introductory course, the material presented here is primarily intended to engage students in the story of ourselves, and the hope is that you will be inspired to further explore the various topics and sub-fields that are available to biological anthropologists, either as an academic (or professional) pursuit or simply out of personal interest.

While a number of interesting concepts are discussed in this class, be prepared that memorization of new terms is also required.

Course Learning Outcomes

The Department of Anthropology and Archaeology is committed to student knowledge and skill development. This course is designed such that you should achieve specific learning outcomes upon successful completion.

After successfully completing this course, students should be able to:
1. Describe the development of evolutionary thought in the Western intellectual tradition, our current understanding of the mechanisms of evolutionary change, including basic genetics and the processes involved in the evolution or new species.

2. Recognize our place in nature with respect to other animals in the order Primates, and appreciate why we study primates as biological anthropologists.

3. Describe and recall the complex path of human evolution, and what lead to the divergence of the line that ultimately lead to modern humans.

4. Evaluate emerging and future reports and news items concerning the discovery of new fossils, new insights regarding human behaviour and that of the other primates, and the increasingly complex biological basis of life. Students who complete this course will be informed consumers of the new information.

5. Appreciate the biological diversity of modern humans, some of the modern applications of biological anthropology, and be able to engage in informed discussions about the legacy and prospects for our species.

Course Requirements and Grading

Test One - 25% Tuesday October 4. Test on all readings (Chapters 1-4 in textbook), media and lectures to that point.
Duration: 60 minutes

Test Two - 35% Tuesday November 15. This test will cover all material (lectures, videos, any other media) since Test One and chapters 5 and 7 - 12 of the textbook.
Duration: 80 minutes

Final Exam - 40% Date TBA. This is a Registrar Scheduled final exam (date released in early October) which covers all class material and all 16 chapters of the textbook. Registrar scheduled Final Exams are 2 hours in length.

All tests are in a multiple choice format.
- It is NOT essential to pass all components to pass the course as whole
- This is an “in class” and “closed book” exam. No materials or are allowed.

Missed examinations/tests cannot be made up without the approval of the instructor. Students who miss a test/exam have up to 48 hours to contact the instructor to ask for a makeup test/exam. It is at the instructor’s discretion if they will allow a make-up exam. Students who do not schedule a makeup test/exam with the instructor within this 48-hour period forfeit the right to a makeup test/exam. At the instructor’s discretion, a makeup test/exam may differ significantly (in form and/or content) from a regularly scheduled test/exam. Once approved by the instructor a makeup test/exam must be written within two weeks of the missed test/exam on a day/time scheduled by the instructor.

Deferral of the registrar-scheduled final exam requires Registrar approval.
https://www.ucalgary.ca/registrar/exams/deferred-final-exams
Multiple choice tests are not returned to students; however a copy of the key will be made available at designated times and places (ie. office hours) for review with the TA. Testable material includes anything that happens during the course: eg. presented online lectures, guest lectures, any other mandatory media (as identified by me, vs supplemental readings), and videos. Required readings (sections of the textbook) are specified above and in the schedule, below.

Required Textbook – Keenlyside A. and R. Lazenby, A Human Voyage, 2nd Edition, 2015. Lectures and textbook chapters are coordinated to some extent and thus there is some overlap in the required readings and the lectures and films. However you are responsible for any material in the textbook whether or not it is covered in class, and any material from the class, whether or not it is covered in the textbook.

Lecture Notes: Lecture notes corresponding to weekly, in-class lectures will be posted before class each week in D2L. Posted notes are intended to enhance the lecture and augment your handwritten notes of lecture material, not replace them. The posted notes are NOT sufficient without the lectures themselves. Class attendance and note taking are positively correlated with test performance and final grade.

Learning Technologies and Requirements
- A computer and internet connection are required for access to the D2L course website. If you do not have access to a computer, they can be booked at the library.

For additional information on support services and accommodations for students with disabilities, visit https://live-ucalgary.ucalgary.ca/student-services/access. Students who require an accommodation in relation to their coursework based on a protected ground other than disability should communicate this need in writing to their Instructor or the Department Head. ACADEMIC INTEGRITY POLICY
Academic integrity is the foundation of the development and acquisition of knowledge and is based on values of honesty, trust, responsibility, and respect. We expect members of our community to act with integrity. The University Calendar includes a statement on the principles of conduct expected of all members of the university community (including students, faculty, administrators, any category of staff, practicum supervisors, and volunteers), whether on or off university property. This statement applies in all situations where members of the university community are acting in their university capacities. All members of the university community have a responsibility to familiarize themselves with the principles of conduct statement, which is available at: www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/k.html.

ACADEMIC MISCONDUCT
The University of Calgary is committed to the highest standards of academic integrity and honesty. Students are expected to be familiar with these standards regarding academic honesty and to uphold the policies of the University in this respect.

Academic dishonesty is not an acceptable activity at the University of Calgary, and students are strongly advised to read the Student Misconduct section in the University Calendar at: www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/k-3.html. Often, students are unaware of what constitutes academic dishonesty or plagiarism. The most common are (1) presenting another student's work as your own, (2) presenting an author's work or ideas as your own without adequate citation, and (3) using work completed for another course. Such activities will not be tolerated in this course, and students suspected of academic misconduct will be dealt with according to the procedures outlined in the calendar at: https://www.ucalgary.ca/legal-services/university-policies-procedures/student-academic-misconduct-procedure

For students wishing to know more about what constitutes plagiarism and how to properly cite the work of others, the Department of Geography recommends that they attend Academic Integrity workshops offered through the Student Success Centre: https://www.ucalgary.ca/student-services/student-success/learning/academic-integrity
