COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course will introduce students to social and cultural anthropology. Drawing from case studies in the course text and from other sources, we will explore the fundamental issues and approaches within social and cultural anthropology. Topics of interest include the basic institutions (e.g., marriage, religion, economy, politics, and gender) within societies, and the interactions between different societies. Emphasis will be placed on the diversity of human culture and the commonalities that are found across human cultures, and on the continuing relevance of anthropological analysis in a globalizing world. The course will largely follow a lecture format, though films will supplement lecture materials.

REQUIRED TEXT

Eller, Jack David. Cultural Anthropology: Global forces, local lives. New York: Routledge, 2013, second edition.

INTERNET RESOURCES ASSOCIATED WITH THE TEXT

Routledge website for the text:

<http://www.routledge.com/textbooks/9780415485395/studentresources.asp>

The page might be helpful for becoming familiar with the material in the text. We will not be using their exams, though you could still check out their sample questions as a study aid.

We also suggest surfing the web to further expose you to the subject matter of this course. There are a myriad of sites, both relevant and otherwise. You can start with the Department of Anthropology home page, or Anthropology resources on the Library webpage.

EVALUATIONS

Your final grade will be based upon your marks on three mid-term tests and an in-class final test. There is no registrar-scheduled exam. We will draw questions for the exams from the text for the course, the films you will see, and the lectures you will hear.

Powerpoints for the lectures will be posted on Blackboard when possible, but they should not be considered to be equivalent to the material covered in class, which is all testable material. Material included in the powerpoints but not covered in class will not be included in the exams.

Supplementary materials will, as appropriate, be posted on Blackboard, but these will not be required readings or included in the exams.

1 st Mid-term test	30%	October 4
2 nd Mid-term test	30%	November 1
3 rd Mid-term test	30%	November 27

C-	62.8 - 58.9%
D+	58.8 - 54.9%
D	54.8 - 49.9%
F	49.8% and below

Test re-writes will not be offered except for documented medical and family emergencies. Vacation plans, heavy workload, etc. will not be considered. Course appeals (grades, missed exams) have to be made in writing. While the instructor will attempt to respond to emails in a timely fashion, that is, within two working days, volume may mean that delays will extend beyond this period. In other words, don't send an email about the test an hour before and expect a response.

ACADEMIC ACCOMMODATIONS

It is the student's responsibility to request academic accommodations. If you are a student with a documented disability who may require academic accommodation and have not registered with the Disability Resource Centre, please contact their office at 220-8237. You are required to discuss your needs with your instructor no later than fourteen (14) days after the start of this course. Students who have not registered with the Disability Resource Centre are not eligible for formal academic accommodation.

PLAGIARISM AND CHEATING

Plagiarism: "to steal and pass off the ideas or words of another as one's own" (Webster's). Plagiarism will not be tolerated and will automatically result in a failing grade for the submission. Any student caught plagiarizing July also be subject to additional University sanctions. Students are expected to be familiar with the Anthropology Departments policy on intellectual honesty available at:

<https://www.anth.ucalgary.ca/home/links/intellectual-honesty-guidelines>

EMERGENCY EVACUATION

In the event that the classroom should need to be evacuated due to an emergency please note that the primary assembly point shall be the ICT Food Court and the secondary assembly point shall be the Social Sciences Food Court.

USRI:

At the University of Calgary, feedback provided by students through the Universal Student Ratings of Instruction (USRI) survey provides valuable information to help with evaluating instruction, enhancing learning and teaching, and selecting courses (www.ucalgary.ca/usri). Your responses make a difference - please participate in USRI Surveys.
