COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course will cover the fundamentals of primate behaviour research and theory, including: evolution, social dynamics, socio-biology, socio-ecology, dominance, aggression, kinship, sexual behaviour, reproductive strategies, cognition, and communication. You will learn primate taxonomy and be able to apply these concepts to conceptualize and describe genetic, ecological and behavioural variation exhibited across primate groups.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

By the end of this course you will be able to:

- Explain the history and motives behind primate studies in terms of understanding human evolution and species variation.
- Recognize features and theories associated with the origin of the primate pattern and primate evolutionary history.
- Identify primate taxonomy and characteristics unique to each taxonomic group.
- Distinguish between the different elements of primate socio-ecology, social groups, and factors that contribute to group variation, including male and female reproductive strategies and their influence on social organization.
- Describe the principles of natural selection and sexual selection, as well as the components of sociobiology.
- Discuss characteristics associated with stages of the primate lifecycle.
- Explain how primates share information with each other through four modes of communication, as well as how they interact with non-primate species.
- Identify threats to primate populations and organizations involved in the development of conservation policies.

REQUIRED TEXT: Primate Behavioural Ecology by Karen Strier, 3rd Edition, 2006

CLASSROOM NORMS

Norms will be negotiated on the first day of class and will cover the following areas:

- Attendance and punctuality
- Questions and participation
- Use of technology: laptops and cell phones
- Exam attendance and conduct

ATTENDANCE AND COURSE MATERIALS

Students will need to attend class to do well in this course! The textbook material is related and complementary to lecture material. However, lectures will not be tightly tied to the format of the textbook and both need to be mastered to do well on exams. Students should read the text and pay close attention to areas where it overlaps with the lectures. Please read the text to understand broad ideas, theories, definitions, and to learn which primate groups and species are associated with learned concepts. The text provides different examples than what is covered in class to supplement your learning and to help to clarify concepts.

Lecture notes: will be posted as 3- and 6-slide PDF handouts on Blackboard

(<http://blackboard.ucalgary.ca>) and can be printed before class to assist in note-taking. Pictures and PPT files will not be posted due to copyright of figures and photographs.

FORMAL ACADEMIC ACCOMMODATIONS

It is the students' responsibility to request academic accommodations. If you are a student with a documented disability who may require academic accommodations and have not registered with the Disability Resource Centre, please contact them at 403-220-8237 or drc@ucalgary.ca. Students who have not registered with the Disability Resource Centre are not eligible for formal academic accommodations. You are also required to discuss your need with your instructor no more than 14 days after the start of the course. The DRC policy can be found at: <http://www.ucalgary.ca/drc/node/93>.

ADDITIONAL ACCOMMODATIONS

Missed Exams – Missed tests automatically receive a score of zero. In the event of an emergency or illness, you MUST notify the instructor, Mackenzie Bergstrom (mbergstr@ucalgary.ca), BEFORE the exam, and documentation (i.e. a doctor's note) may be requested before or at the time of the scheduled make-up test. The make-up test will be scheduled no later than 1 week after the exam.

Returned Exams – Exam marks will be posted on Blackboard but exams will not be handed back. Students will be allowed to view both their own exam and the answer key during scheduled office hours, or by appointment. After reviewing the key and your notes, if you feel that you were marked unfairly or that marks were missed on your exam, you can address the concern with the instructor or TA. You may be asked to prepare a short statement explaining the concern. The entire question will then be re-graded and marks adjusted (up or down, as is warranted) at the instructor's discretion.

No accommodation will be made for poor performance on exams. For instance, additional items cannot be submitted in lieu of exams and grades will not be curved. Please be sure that you are well-prepared for exams so that you perform well when you have the opportunity!

COMMUNICATION ETIQUETTE (e.g., email)

- Please use your university account when possible. Otherwise, use an account with an appropriate name (Example of an unacceptable email: sexymama@gmail.com).
- Use a clear subject line that includes the course name/section and the topic of the email such as "ANTH 311.01 Question about my schedule"
- Please be respectful (i.e., not too casual) when addressing either myself or your TA in an email. Use an appropriate greeting (acceptable: "Dear Ms. Bergstrom"; unacceptable: "Hey there"). Please proof-read, spell check and use complete sentences.
- Keep the question(s) short and to the point. Show that you have made an effort to find the answer first in the text and lecture material (or even an outside source). State what you know in relation to what you are having a difficult time understanding.
- Include your full name and student ID in the signature of your email.
- Allow 48 hours for a response, excluding weekends and holidays.

Please note: We may choose not to respond to emails that do not follow the format outlined above so please be thorough and respectful when addressing us with a concern and in return, we will try our very best to get back to you as soon as possible to accommodate your needs.

Subject: ANTH 311.01 Question about traits

Dear Ms. Bergstrom,

I'm not sure I fully understand the difference between "derived" and "primitive" traits. Based on my understanding, primitive traits must have occurred as far back as a common ancestor of the species being compared. Derived traits can occur anywhere along the ancestral line after the common ancestor, including humans and modern day primates. So, is the difference that derived traits came about in whichever species in which they occur after the branching from a common ancestor, whereas primitive traits are there because the common ancestor had them and they have not been lost throughout evolution?

Thank you for your time,

A good Student (SID# 12345678)

2) Bad (yes, this was an actual email I received at 3pm the day of an exam)

Subject:

what up? i dont get it. what is derived and primitive trate? r u gonna test this? can u get back to me fast cuz the test is today and i need to studddy.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

Any single occurrence of cheating, plagiarism, or other variant of academic misconduct upon any single assignment, essay, or examination, can result in disciplinary probation, suspension, or expulsion by the faculty dean. All university-level policies apply to this course. Details of this policy can be found in the University Calendar: <http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar>, under "Academic Regulations."

EMERGENCY EVACUATION

In the event that the classroom should need to be evacuated due to an emergency situation please note that the primary assembly point shall be at the Professional Faculties Food Court and the Education Block Food Court shall be used as a secondary assembly point.

FINAL NOTES FOR SUCCESS

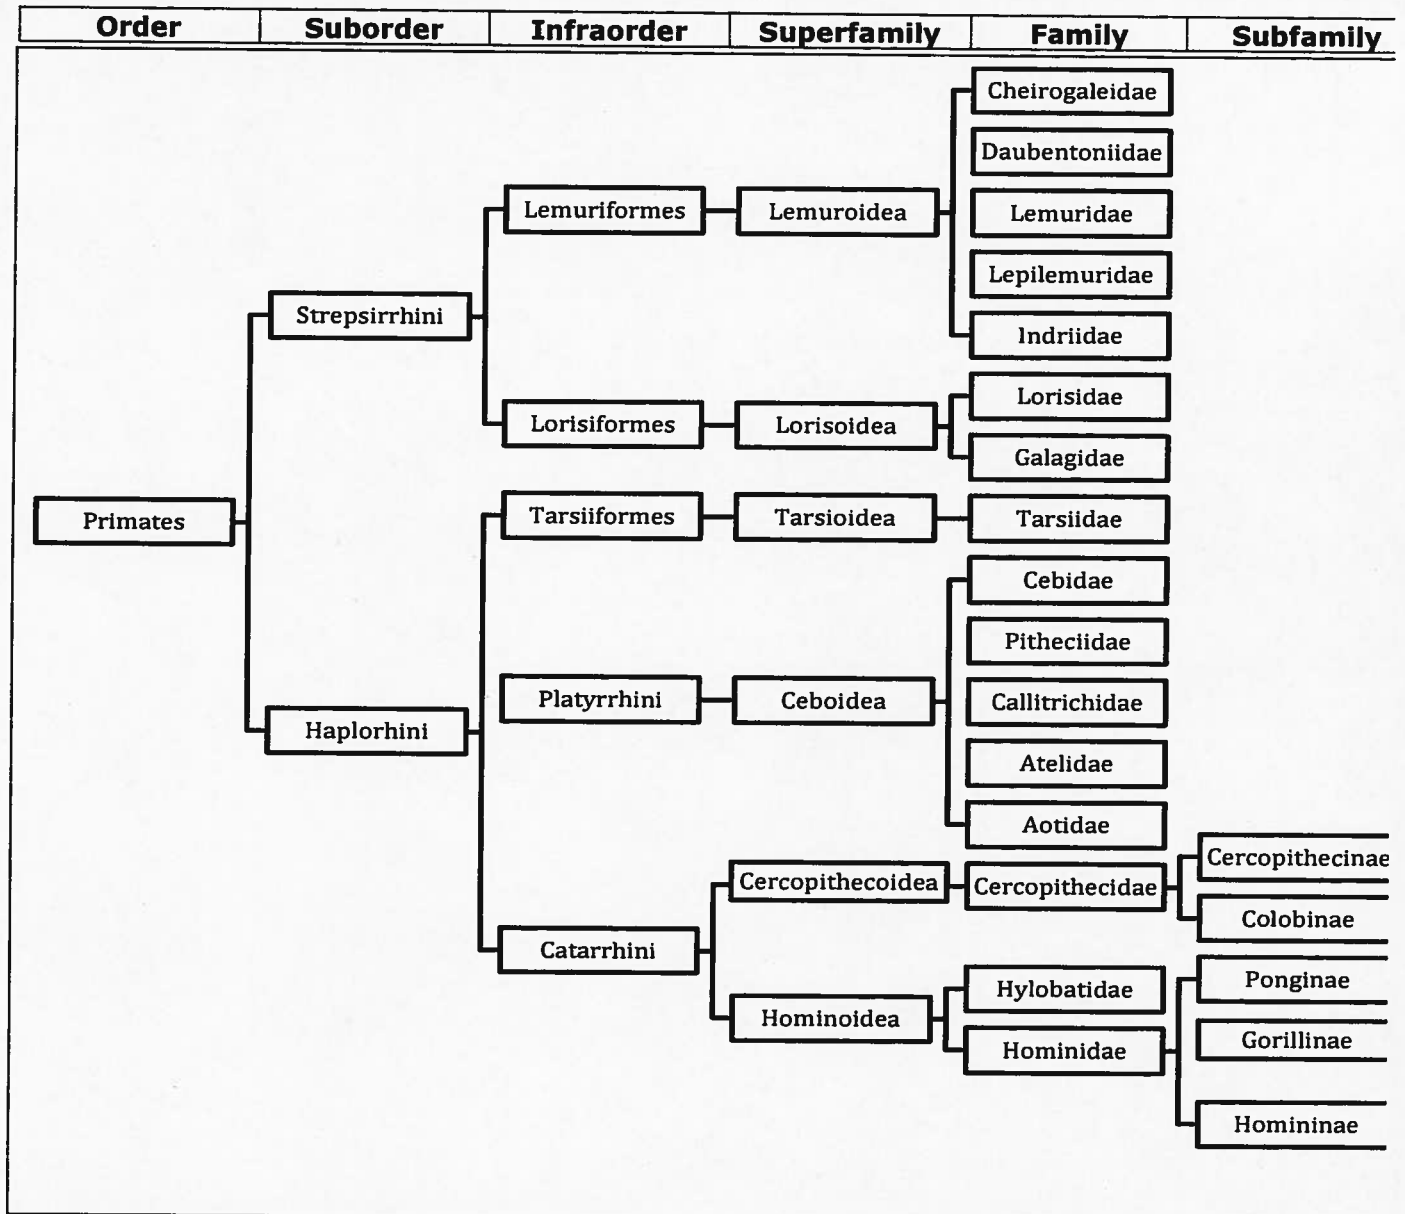

- If at any time during the course you do not understand the material, please ask either myself or the TA: a) during class (please raise your hand), b) during lecture breaks, c) before or after class, d) via email, or e) during office hours. We would like to help you succeed!
- I encourage you to get to know some of your fellow students and study together. Studies show that the average person only retains 10% of the material they READ versus 90% of the material they READ, then RECITE, EXPLAIN OR DEMONSTRATE! (See graph from the U of C Teaching and Learning Centre below):

Thank you for your attention. I am looking forward to a great semester! ☺
