COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course will cover the fundamentals of primate behaviour research and theory, including evolution, social dynamics, sociobiology, socioecology, dominance, aggression, kinship, sexual behaviour, reproductive strategies, cognition, and communication. You will learn primate taxonomy and be able to apply these concepts to conceptualize and describe genetic, ecological and behavioural variation exhibited across primate groups.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

By the end of this course you will be able to:

- Explain the history and motives behind primate studies in terms of understanding human evolution and species variation.
- Recognize features and theories associated with the origin of the primate pattern and primate evolutionary history.
- Identify primate taxonomy and characteristics unique to each taxonomic group.
- Distinguish between the different elements of primate socioecology, social groups, and factors that contribute to group variation, including male and female reproductive strategies and their influence on social organization.
- Describe the principles of natural selection and sexual selection.
- Understand the origins of sociobiology and how associated theories apply to primate behavior.
- Discuss characteristics associated with stages of the primate life cycle.
- Explain how primates share information with each other through different modes of communication, as well as how they interact with non-primate species.
- Identify threats to primate populations and organizations involved in the development of conservation policies.

REQUIRED TEXT: Primate Behavioural Ecology by Karen Strier, 4th Edition, 2010

ATTENDANCE AND COURSE MATERIALS

Students will need to attend class to do well in this course! The textbook material is related and complementary to lecture material. However, some lectures will not be tightly tied to the format of the textbook and both need to be mastered to do well on exams. Students should read the text and pay close attention to areas where it overlaps with the lectures. It is important to understand broad ideas, theories, definitions, and to learn which primate groups and species are associated with learned concepts. The text provides different examples than what is covered in class to supplement your learning and to help to clarify concepts.

Lecture notes: will be posted as 1- and 3-slide PDF handouts on D2L (<https://d2l.ucalgary.ca>) and can be printed before class to assist in note taking. Some pictures and whole PPT files will not be posted due to copyright of figures and photographs.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Primates In Press Assignment (10%): Submissions due October 1st – November 30th. We will discuss a variety of topics and primate species during the term. Choose a topic of interest to you, read a published journal article on that topic, and write a 1-page description of 1) your reason for choosing the topic, 2) a summary of the article, and 3) how it relates to information covered during class and in the textbook. The article must be published between 2013 and the present in one of three journals: International Journal of Primatology, American Journal of Primatology, American Journal of Physical Anthropology. Full assignment details will be posted on D2L in the Assignments folder.

Term Test 1 (30%): October 5th, 2015. This test will be multiple choice and short answer format and will cover all preceding lecture materials, videos and textbook chapters.

Term Test 2 (30%): November 9th, 2015. This test will be multiple choice and short answer format and will evaluate knowledge of lecture materials, videos and textbook chapters covered since Term Test 1 (i.e., non-cumulative).

Final Exam (30%): Registrar scheduled Dec 11th – 22nd. This test will be multiple choice and short answer format and will evaluate knowledge of lecture material, videos and textbook chapters covered since Term Test 2 (i.e., non-cumulative).

Please note: ALL lecture material will be covered on exams; this includes videos, lectures, discussions, and guest lectures. Lectures do not exactly follow the text chapters so please read actively and carefully!

FORMAL ACADEMIC ACCOMMODATIONS

It is the student's responsibility to request academic accommodations. If you are a student with a documented disability who may require academic accommodations and have not registered with the Student Accessibility Services (SAS), please contact them at 403-220-8237 or access@ucalgary.ca. Students who have not registered with SAS are not eligible for formal academic accommodations. You are also required to discuss your need with your instructor no more than 14 days after the start of the course.

ADDITIONAL ACCOMMODATIONS

Missed Exams – Missed tests automatically receive a score of zero. In the event of an emergency or illness, you MUST notify the instructor, Mackenzie Bergstrom (mbergstr@ucalgary.ca), or the Anthropology main office (403-220-6516) BEFORE the exam, and documentation (e.g., a doctor's note) may be requested before or at the time of the scheduled make-up test. The make-up test, which may not be offered in all cases, will be scheduled no later than 1 week after the missed exam and may be in a different format (e.g., essay, oral).

Exam Viewing – Exam marks will be posted on D2L but exams will not be handed back. Students will be allowed to view both their own exam and the answer key during scheduled office hours, or by appointment. After reviewing the key and your notes, if you feel that you were marked unfairly or that marks were missed on your exam, you can address the concern with the instructor or TA. You may be asked to prepare a short statement explaining the concern. The entire question will then be re-graded and marks adjusted (up or down, as is warranted) at the instructor's discretion.

No accommodation will be made for poor performance on exams. For instance, additional items cannot be submitted in lieu of exams and grades will not be curved. Please be sure that you are well-prepared for exams so that you perform well when you have the opportunity!

CLASSROOM NORMS

- Check D2L regularly for announcements and updates.
- Attendance and punctuality
It is in your own best interest to attend all classes. Please arrive on time so not to disrupt other students. If you arrive late, please sit at the back or along an aisle. If you need to leave early, please notify the instructor before class and sit in a location where you will not disturb other students when you leave.
- Use of technology: laptops and cell phones
The most important thing is to be respectful and supportive to other students. Please turn off your cell phones and any other electronic devices. You may use a laptop to take notes, but please sit at the back or along the sides so you do not disturb other students. Please only use your laptops to take notes, and remember that instructors can often tell when you're watching videos, looking at Facebook, etc. If there are problems with the misuse of technology during the term, I reserve the right to change this policy and disallow the use of laptops.
- Questions and participation
Engaging with your instructors is an important part of university and can be challenging in a large class. Please try your best to actively participate in class and remember – if you are wondering about something, there is a very good chance other students are as well. If at any time during the course you do not understand the material, I encourage you to ask the TA or me: a) during class (please raise your hand), b) during lecture breaks, c) before or after class, d) via email (allow 2 business days, 48 hrs response time), or e) during office hours. We would like to help you succeed!
- Exam attendance and conduct
Use the washroom beforehand. Arrive on time. Bring a pencil, pen, eraser and your student ID. Turn off and put away all electronic devices upon arrival. Turn all hats backwards and remove earphones. You are allowed to have writing utensils, your student ID, tissue and a drink on the table – everything else must be stowed out of sight.

COMMUNICATION ETIQUETTE (e.g. email)

- Please use your university account when possible. Otherwise, use an account with an appropriate name (Example of an unacceptable email: sexymama@gmail.com).
- Use a clear subject line that includes the course name/section and the topic of the email such as "ANTH 311.03 Question about my schedule"
- Please be respectful (i.e., not too casual) when addressing either the TA or myself. Use an appropriate greeting (acceptable: "Dear Dr. Bergstrom"; unacceptable: "Hey there" or "What up?"). Please proofread, spell check and use complete sentences.

- Keep the question(s) short and to the point. Show that you have made an effort to find the answer first in the text and lecture material (or even an outside source). State what you know in relation to what you are having a difficult time understanding.
- Include your full name and student ID in the signature of your email.
- Allow 48 hours for a response, excluding weekends and holidays.

Please note: We may choose not to respond to emails that do not follow the format outlined above so please be thorough and respectful when addressing us with a concern and in return, we will try our very best to get back to you as soon as possible to accommodate your needs.

Subject: ANTH 311.03 Question about traits

Dear Dr. Bergstrom,

I'm not sure I fully understand the difference between "derived" and "primitive" traits. Based on my understanding, primitive traits must have occurred as far back as a common ancestor of the species being compared. Derived traits can occur anywhere along the ancestral line after the common ancestor, including humans and modern day primates. So, is the difference that derived traits came about in whichever species in which they occur after the branching from a common ancestor, whereas primitive traits are there because the common ancestor had them and they have not been lost throughout evolution?

Thank you for your time,

Agood Student (SID# 12345678)

2) Bad (yes, this was an actual email I received at 3pm the day of an exam)

Subject:

what up? i dont get it. what is derived and primitive trate? r u gonna test this? can u get back to me fast cuz the test is today and i need to studdy.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

Any single occurrence of cheating, plagiarism, or other variant of academic misconduct upon any single assignment, essay, or examination, can result in disciplinary probation, suspension, or expulsion by the faculty associate dean. All university-level policies apply to this course. Details of this policy can be found in the University Calendar: <http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/index.htm>, under "Student Misconduct."

EMERGENCY EVACUATION

In the event that the classroom should need to be evacuated due to an emergency situation please note that the primary assembly point would be at the ICT Food Court.

FINAL NOTES FOR SUCCESS

I encourage you to get to know some of your fellow students and study together. Studies show that the average person only retains 10% of the material they READ versus 90% of the material they READ, then RECITE, EXPLAIN OR DEMONSTRATE! (See graph from the U of C Teaching and Learning Centre below). Thank you for your attention. I am looking forward to a great semester! ☺

USRI:

At the University of Calgary, feedback provided by students through the Universal Student Ratings of Instruction (USRI) survey provides valuable information to help with evaluating instruction, enhancing learning and teaching, and selecting courses (www.ucalgary.ca/usri). Your responses make a difference - please participate in USRI Surveys.

PLAGIARISM AND CHEATING

Plagiarism: "to steal and pass off the ideas or words of another as one's own" (Webster's). Plagiarism will not be tolerated and will automatically result in a failing grade for the submission. Any student caught plagiarizing may also be subject to additional University sanctions. Students are expected to be familiar with the Anthropology Departments policy on intellectual honesty available at:

<https://www.anth.ucalgary.ca/home/links/intellectual-honesty-guidelines>

The Department of Anthropology and Archaeology's FOIP (Freedom of Information and Privacy) policy requires all reports/examinations to be returned to students during class time or the instructor's office hours. Any term work not picked up will be placed in the Anthropology and Archaeology Office (ES620) for distribution. Any student not wishing to have their work placed in the office must make alternate arrangements with the course instructor early in the term.
